

Quaker Oaks Farm
Spring Youth Service Learning Camp
April 6-10, 2020

Air fills our lungs and keeps us alive, yet it is taken for granted by many populations. Indigenous communities, however, appreciate the air as sacred. Today, California has some of the worst air pollution in the country. This year's theme of Air builds from our previous camps and recent themes, Fire, Water and Earth, honoring the sacredness of all Beings. Join us as we explore the power and value of Air in traditional and contemporary practice. As the climate changes do we need new ways to care for the Air?

We will share our Histories and Love one another across Seeming Divides, all through Fun, Interactive Activities. Camp includes a service-learning project on the Land and a field trip.

In partnership with the Wukchumni Yokuts of Central California's San Joaquin Valley and Pacific Yearly Meeting Youth Programs (Quakers)
